ACCOMMODATION AT KENT 2019

A guide for undergraduate and postgraduate students
Living in University accommodation is an unmissable part of your student experience. You’re part of a large, diverse community of students where there’s always someone to talk to and with facilities close by. We have something for you, whether you want to cook for yourself or have your meals included, live in a modern flat or in a shared house. Get in touch with us and we’ll help you find your new home.
WHY STAY IN UNIVERSITY ACCOMMODATION?

Choice and flexibility
At our Canterbury campus we have a range of options to suit you, so whether you want to cook for yourself, or have meals included, live in a flat with an en-suite bathroom or a house with shared facilities, we’ve got you covered.

Convenient locations
Wherever you live on our Canterbury campus, you’re only ever a few minutes away from your lectures, seminars and all the facilities. At Medway, accommodation at Liberty Quays is just a short walk from the campus.

Excellent facilities
Living on the Canterbury campus, you can make the most of everything from the shops and cafés to the Gulbenkian arts centre, sports facilities and Venue nightclub. Liberty Quays has its own social spaces, supermarket and bar and bistro, Cargo.

Continuing investment
In recent years, we’ve invested more than £120m in our student residences. Most of our bedrooms are newly built or refurbished and we can offer you a wide range of accommodation in different price bands.

Study options
Both campuses offer a variety of places to study. Canterbury has the Templeman Library plus PC rooms and study hubs across campus. The Drill Hall Library at Medway has quiet and social zones and more than 400 PCs and laptops.

Specific needs
We have a number of adapted and accessible rooms at both our Canterbury and our Medway sites for students with specific needs. See p7 and individual accommodation descriptions for more information.

Well connected
All of our Canterbury accommodation has wired and Wi-Fi internet connection. At Medway, Liberty Quays has high-speed broadband and Wi-Fi as standard and you can upgrade if you choose.

Bills included
Your accommodation costs include room contents insurance, electricity, gas, water and Wi-Fi. So you can spend less time managing your budget and focus on settling into your course and university life.

Safety and security
Your safety is a priority, and at both our campuses we have CCTV and campus security teams on site 24/7. With the University’s free SafeZone app, you can easily contact the security team for assistance from your mobile.
Friendly community

Going to university is an exciting opportunity, and living with people sharing the same experience helps you to settle in. Sharing with other students helps you to make friends, and living close to the University’s cafés, bars and sports facilities gives you a great opportunity to embrace the social side of university life. Many students become good friends with their first-year flatmates and go on to rent privately with them in their second year.

The University of Kent (Canterbury campus) is signed up to the Universities UK Code of Practice for University Managed Student Accommodation. This covers health and safety, maintenance and repair, good management practice and will also assist students to understand their obligations as responsible residents (see www.thesac.org.uk).

Liberty Living (Medway campus) is a member of the National Code – Assured Accommodation (see www.nationalcode.org)
ACCOMMODATION TYPES

We have a range of accommodation types for students at our campus in Canterbury. For Medway students, we offer self-catered flats at Liberty Quays through a partnership with Liberty Living.

Canterbury undergraduate accommodation
You have three catering options available to you on campus. You can live in self-catered, Bed and Bistro, or Bed and Flex accommodation.

Self-catered
Self-catered options mean that you have access to a well-equipped shared kitchen so you can prepare your own meals. This option is available at:
• Darwin College
• Keynes flats
• Keynes houses
• Park Wood houses
• Park Wood flats
• Turing flats
• Turing houses
• Tyler Court.

For details of all of these, please see p10-11.

If you like the freedom of self-catering but want the option of having some of your meals on campus, then you can add on our Flex Catering Package. It offers you savings on food and drink across many campus cafes and restaurants. See p11 for more details.

Bed and Bistro
Available to residents of Becket Court and the main college building at Keynes College, this option combines an en-suite room with breakfast and dinner in Dolche Vita at Keynes College on weekdays and meals at Rutherford Dining Hall at weekends and bank holidays (during term time). There are also small shared kitchenettes for preparing drinks and snacks.

Bed and Flex
With this part-catered option you have an allowance of £8 per day, seven days a week, (during term-time only) to spend on food in a variety of catering outlets across campus. Either used together or split into two £4 tokens, this package gives you the freedom to try the wide range of delicious food available at 10 outlets on the Canterbury campus and three outlets at Medway. This option is available at Eliot and Rutherford Colleges (p12), which also have shared kitchenettes for preparing drinks and snacks.

Canterbury postgraduate accommodation
We have single en-suite, self-catering rooms available at Woolf College, our dedicated college for postgraduates, as well as single self-catering options at Darwin houses. For more information, see p14-15.

Living off campus
Most first-year undergraduate students stay in University accommodation.

If, however, you decide to live off campus in your first year of study, you should arrange a short stay in Canterbury or Medway so you can look at accommodation in advance. You shouldn’t agree to rent, or pay for, private accommodation without seeing it first. From their second year onwards, undergraduates usually join with friends to rent houses or flats off campus.

The University of Kent participates in Home Stamp, Canterbury’s accreditation scheme for student housing. For more information, see: www.homestampkent.co.uk

You can also find more information and advice on housing at: www.kentunion.co.uk/welfare/advice/housing

Accommodation at Medway
All eligible undergraduate and postgraduate students studying at our Medway campus can apply to live at Liberty Quays – modern, self-catered, en-suite accommodation. Typically, the flats house five to eight students, who share a fully equipped kitchen. Plus you can return for your second and third years. See p13 for more details.
How can I pay my fees?
Accommodation fees can be paid termly in advance (as per your accommodation agreement) by paying online at www.kent.ac.uk/finance-student/payment.

Can my partner and/or children stay with me?
The University has very limited accommodation suitable for couples studying postgraduate qualifications in Darwin and Keynes studio flats. We regret that there is no accommodation suitable for students with children.

What are the rooms like?
Take a look at the 360° images of our rooms, as well as catering outlets, social spaces and academic facilities on both campuses at www.kent.ac.uk/virtualtours.

Which accommodation is suitable for my needs?
If you have any special requirements (such as medical, dietary or other needs) that may affect your accommodation choices, please advise us on your online application. If you would like to talk through your options before applying, please contact a Student Accommodation Co-ordinator in our Accommodation Office on +44 (0)1227 766660.

How much are the accommodation fees?
Please see the table on p18-19 for 2018/19 prices, which are for guidance only. Accommodation prices for 2019/20 will be available from January 2019 at www.kent.ac.uk/accommodation.

What do fees include?
Fees include internet access, personal room contents insurance and gas, electricity and water costs. For details of what else is included by accommodation type, see the quick reference guide on p18-19.

What does the contents insurance cover?
Both Canterbury and Medway accommodation fees include limited room contents insurance (through a different provider for each campus). You can arrange additional cover for accidental damage or high-value items via the insurers' websites.

Do I need to buy a TV licence?
The majority of bedrooms do not include a TV or a TV aerial. You will need to pay for a TV licence if:
- you want to bring your own TV to university and use it in your room
- you want to watch live TV programmes on your computer or other electronic devices
- you want to watch or download content from the BBC’s iPlayer website.

For more information and to buy a TV licence, go to www.tvlicensing.co.uk.

Is parking available on campus?
If you live on campus, you will not be able to bring your car. Parking is restricted at the Canterbury campus, typically just to Blue Badge holders, or students who live off campus, outside designated postcode areas. There is no parking available for residents at Liberty Quays. Both campuses are well served by public transport, making it easy to get around. For more details, see: www.kent.ac.uk/transport.

Application deadline
Applications for accommodation must be received by 31 July 2019. You should apply for accommodation as soon as you receive formal confirmation of an offer from the University (for eligibility conditions, see facing page).

The earlier you apply, the better your chances of securing the accommodation you want, and you can edit your application up to the deadline without altering your application date. The online application form for the 2019/20 academic year will be available from January 2019 at: www.kent.ac.uk/accommodation

Undergraduate applicants
UCAS applicants
You should apply online for accommodation as soon as you receive formal confirmation via UCAS or UCAS Extra of a conditional or unconditional offer from the University, even if Kent is your insurance choice.

Completing the online application form
If you are applying for undergraduate accommodation on the Canterbury campus, you can request up to four preferences on your accommodation application, two of which can be en suite. We recommend that you vary your location choices (ie not selecting several room types in the same college or block) to give you a better chance of being placed in accommodation that suits you.

While we cannot guarantee to meet preferences, we give priority to students who have Kent as their firm choice, on a first-come, first-served basis.

Postgraduate applicants
You should apply for accommodation as soon as you receive formal confirmation of an offer from the University.

Postgraduate students applying for accommodation at Canterbury or Medway should complete the online application form at www.kent.ac.uk/accommodation. A non-refundable advance payment fee is required when applying for postgraduate accommodation.

Deferred entry
If you have been accepted for deferred entry in September 2020, you do not need to complete a 2019 accommodation application. You should complete a 2020 online application, available from January 2020 at: www.kent.ac.uk/accommodation
