University of Kent/International Student Guide
Based on the evidence available, the TEF Panel judged that the University of Kent delivers consistently outstanding teaching, learning and outcomes for its students, for which it is awarded the highest possible rating of Gold. This rating is based on the following outcomes for students:

- The proportion of students who are satisfied with the quality of the teaching that they receive
- The proportion of students who are satisfied with the feedback they receive on their performance
- The proportion of students who feel staff are good at explaining key concepts
- The proportion of students who feel staff are good at providing pastoral support
- The proportion of students who feel the learning resources and facilities available to them are good
- The proportion of students who feel the learning opportunities provided to them are good

This means that the University of Kent is one of the highest quality teaching institutions in the UK.
