Description of the 2nd Phase: Workshop /"Theatre and Nature"

Physical work: The work will be based on physical exercises and practices in connection with nature.

Voice, sound, song: We will follow the process from the breathing to the appearance of the sound and song in two different contexts: closed and open space.

Actions in nature: During the six days workshop we will compose a series of improvisations in non-conventional places. We will analyse the relation between human interventions on nature and the expression of personal creativity. How can the human being create a synthesis between buildings and trees? How can creativity resolve this passage?

Description of the 3rd Phase: Workshop /"From Improvisation to Performance"

Rehearsal: Few structured improvisations will be created during the six days and developed into performative fragments. The main point will be to explore the four elements: water, fire, air and earth. The performance will be travelling in three main places: the building, the square and the pond.
