WELCOME TO KENT

Our postgraduate programmes are informed by a commitment to research excellence. As a top-ranked UK university, Kent provides a dynamic and challenging academic environment.

World-leading research
In the most recent Research Excellence Framework (REF), Kent was ranked in the top 20 for research intensity in the Times Higher Education, outperforming 11 of the 24 Russell Group universities.

Our academic schools and centres produce world-leading research and our outstanding performance in the REF led to Kent receiving the fifth-highest increase in research funding in the UK from the Higher Education Funding Council (HEFCE).

With programmes of study that are informed by research, our students are able to develop skills and knowledge relevant to contemporary issues. Our research activities and international collaborations with outside organisations create knowledge that has demonstrable impact across a range of disciplines.

Strong academic community
A thriving intellectual community of students and staff is fundamental to Kent’s position as a leading research university. Our students benefit from a rich, stimulating and intellectually challenging community where postgraduates work alongside staff.

Schools hold regular events to provide a forum for students and staff to discuss their ongoing research activities and also invite leaders in their fields to give guest lectures.

Postgraduate students are encouraged to take an active role in the academic community and develop their skills by presenting work at research seminars, participating in conferences and publishing papers.

The Graduate School coordinates a range of activities to foster interdisciplinary dialogue and the development of research and transferable skills.

A global outlook
Kent has an excellent international reputation and our academic schools are engaged in collaborative research with universities from around the world. Many of Kent’s programmes have a strong international focus with some offering the opportunity to study for dual or joint awards with prestigious overseas partner institutions.

Our global outlook is strengthened by our long-standing links with continental Europe. Known as ‘the UK’s European university’, we have campuses in Canterbury and Medway, a centre for short courses and part-time study in Tonbridge and specialist postgraduate centres in Athens, Brussels, Paris and Rome.

As an established research-intensive university, Kent acts as a gateway to Europe for students from the UK and across the world. Last year, over half of our postgraduate students came from countries outside the UK. This contributes to the cosmopolitan atmosphere at Kent and provides the ideal environment for our analysis of global issues.
