Biography

Kevin Hylton is Professor Emeritus of Equality and Diversity in Sport, Leisure and Education, Leeds Beckett University, UK. Kevin is the first Black Professor to hold this title. Kevin’s research is world leading in regard to race research in sport and education. Kevin authored ‘Race’ and Sport: Critical Race Theory (Routledge, 2009) and Contesting ‘Race’ and Sport: Shaming the Colour Line (Routledge, 2018). Kevin is Board Member for the International Review for the Sociology of Sport (IRSS), the Journal of Global Sport Management and Co-Editor of the Routledge Critical Series on Equality and Social Justice in Sport and Leisure. Kevin is Patron of the Equality Challenge Unit’s Race Equality Charter. Kevin is Visiting Professor at the University of South Wales and was previously Head of the Research Centre for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion.