CALL FOR PAPERS
Conference: Friday 5 April 2019 (9:00am – 4:30pm)
Location: University of Kent, Canterbury

Join colleagues from across the sector for a one-day conference, at the University of Kent, to share good practice in the fields of internationalisation at home and internationalisation of the curriculum. Tell us about the successes and challenges of your institutions or your own classroom activities and pick up new strategies to develop your approach to global education.

Overview:

We welcome submissions, which relate to any aspect of Internationalisation at Home or Curriculum Internationalisation. Presentations or workshops should focus on research or tried-and-tested good practice in globally-focused Higher Education or educational support activities. We are particularly interested in:

- Research and classroom practice which can be linked to meaningful outcomes in student experience for both home and international students
- Ventures which seek to develop intercultural awareness between home and international students
- Mechanisms for encouraging and supporting internationalisation in different academic disciplines
- Examples of embedding internationalised learning outcomes
- Internationalisation within formal and informal contexts
- Internationalisation activities which harness technology for transnational communications
- Strategies for engaging colleagues in internationalisation at home
Types of presentations:

Sessions should be designed to be either presentations or workshops, with audience participation. Presentations and workshops to be 25 minutes in duration with an additional 5 minutes for questions.

Abstract and submission information:

Please, submit an abstract of no more than 300 words to iih-conference@kent.ac.uk before 5pm, 7 March 2019. Please, include a session title of no more than 50 words and the names, institutional affiliation, job titles and email addresses of all presenters. Please, identify your session as either a presentation or workshop.

Registration and conference fee: Conference fee £50 is payable at time of registration: https://bit.ly/2FMTgmz
