

University of Kent

Ethical Guidelines

Sustainability

Each member of the University community should:

- a) attempt to minimise any negative impact they might have on the natural and built environment
- b) exercise good stewardship of the financial, physical, human and intellectual resources entrusted to them
- c) aim to support efficient and effective work and study practices.

Further Information:

- Carbon Management Strategy
- Environmental Management web pages
- University Environment Policy