5510  RISK MANAGEMENT

The Chair of the Audit Committee and Director of Governance and Assurance (Secretary to the Council) presented Paper C2021/087 Risk Management Strategy for approval, and the Annual Risk Management Assessment Report 2021-2022 for discussion. Charmaine Leech, Risk Management Consultant, joined the meeting for this item.

The Audit Committee recommended the new approach to Risk Management which represented a significant organisational change in approach. The papers presented were the first iteration of a maturing framework that would be developed further over the coming year. The revised approach had been developed under the oversight of the Project Board, Executive Group and Audit Committee and with the engagement of the DVCs, CFO, Director of HROD, and with senior managers and Divisional Directors.

Council welcomed the new approach being taken to the management of risk and noted that the Audit Committee and the Executive Group would oversee the detailed development of the new regime, while Council would receive routine summary updates in future.

The following points were noted:

I. Civic engagement was one of the University’s three Strategic Pillars, along with Education and Student Experience, and Research and Innovation. Kent had the ambition to become a leading civic university.

II. A civic agreement typically focused on themes around health and wellbeing, education, sustainability, business and the economy. Civic agreements were usually signed by institutions such as local authorities, universities, colleges, NHS Trusts and Dioceses, coming together in a locality to pursue a common agenda.

III. In areas such as the Institute of Creative and Cultural Industries (ICCI), KMMS, the Signature Research Themes and links with industry the University was demonstrating leadership and championing its Civic Engagement ambitions, with opportunities for staff, students and the local community to play a part.

IV. Because civic engagement had a local focus it attracted less funding than international activity. Establishing a coherent, whole university approach could help to make more efficient use of available resource.

V. Actions in train included making civic engagement part of the academic career map and utilising the alumni network (two-thirds of whom were based in the southeast).

VI. Council noted the opportunities that a civic agreement could bring for the university, such as external ‘watermark’ accreditation awards. In addition, the support and advice of Council members and their networks could support greater understanding of the opportunities within the University’s geographical area.

VII. Council noted that a Civic Engagement Plan would be drafted, complete with associated KPIs to help promote Kent’s public commitment to civic engagement.
Council thanked the Director of Engagement for an informative introduction to the Civic Engagement Strategy and looked forward to receiving future updates as the strategic pillar activity progressed.

5513 People and Culture Strategy
C2021/092 People and Culture Strategy
The Director of Human Resources & Organisational Development presented the People and Culture Strategy.

The following points were noted:

a) The Strategy was a reframing of the former HR Strategy which looked at the organisation and people and culture more holistically.

b) The Strategy supported the University’s vision with a renewed emphasis on wellbeing and work-life balance, the embedding of organisational success, and driving efficiency and effectiveness.

c) An action plan would be developed, with key deliverables and success measures which to translate the strategy into action.

Council approved the People and Culture Strategy, noting it was helpful to have clarity about the objectives and targets within it and the emphasis on links to the EDI Strategy. Council thanked the Director of HR&OD for the informative presentation.
