

British Sociological
Association

The British Sociological Association - Risk and Society Study Group

Annual Conference 2006 'Health, Risk and Society'

Sunday 3rd – Tuesday 5th September
University of Kent, Canterbury

Keynote speakers include:

- Professor John Tulloch, Brunel University Thinking about risk in the light of personal experience, post 7/7
- Professor Alan Petersen, University of Plymouth Nanosubs and grey goo: how the media frame nanotechnology risks
- Dr Tom Horlick-Jones, Cardiff University Any port in a storm: the dangers of fieldwork in risk-saturated spaces

Key conference themes will include:

- Risk and governmentality
- Risk and transgression
- Risk and public health
- Health risk in mass media
- Globalisation, health and risk
- Beyond the 'risk society'
- Living with enduring illness
- The impact of nanotechnologies
- Responses to risk
- Health, risk and place
- Risk and citizenship
- Health, risk and biography
- Health, risk and uncertainty

Deadline for submission of abstracts 7th July 2006. Opportunities for publications in special issues of Health, Risk and Society and conference book.

Further programme details and abstract submission form available from: Kirstie Coxon, conference administrator
k.coxon@kent.ac.uk

OFFER: Conference participants can subscribe to 'Health, Risk and Society' at 50% discounted rate

chss
UNIVERSITY OF KENT

E · S · R · C
ECONOMIC & SOCIAL
RESEARCH
COUNCIL

SCARR
Social Contexts
and Responses to Risk

SoRU
Sociology of Risk and Uncertainty
Research
Network of the European Sociological Association