Kent Sport Student Blogger

Passionate about sport and blogging? Kent Sport is on the look out for bloggers...

If you are a student at Kent, enjoy sport and like to write, why not contribute to Kent Sport news?

Share your experience of Kent whether you are a footballer, badminton or tennis player, gymnast or cheerleader or a fitness class fanatic; or perhaps you just like to keep up to date with sport, fitness and wellbeing at Kent from the sidelines ...Why not let your mates know about the excitement of sport at Kent.

Submit blog items to Kent Sport Marketing department and be a part of the sports community at Kent. This is a great opportunity to have your say and build up a portfolio of work.

Benefits of blogging

- Earn 30 Employability Points www.kent.ac.uk/employabilitypoints
- Build a reputation and boost your C.V.
- Start networking! To get recognised as a writer people need to know you exist
- Employers are always interested in personal skills, blogging can benefit your career even if you don’t fancy yourself as an aspiring journalist
- Get your personality through on paper (or the computer)
- Get people talking - share your stories through Facebook and Twitter

We want to hear from you! For further information and to join the Kent Sport bloggers email: pd209@kent.ac.uk