   D4. The ability to evaluate his/her own performance, development and contribution to the group work
   D6. The ability to research, analyse and examine a range of information

10. A synopsis of the curriculum
   The present module develops singing technique as applied to Acting. Students explore a range of material from different musical periods in order to develop an understanding of key aspects of singing technique, and its application in different stylistic contexts. The curriculum introduces students to varied repertoire including solo and ensemble as well as technical exercises, score reading skills, and warm-ups, designed to enable students to apply independent learning.

   The curriculum consists of the following classes:
   - Individual Singing Technique
   - Group singing and musical style

11. Reading list (Indicative list, current at time of publication. Reading lists will be published annually)

12. Learning and teaching methods
   This module comprises of 121.5 hours of study, approximately broken down as follows:
   - 100 hours of class work including rehearsals and showings
   - 20 hours of private study.

   Students work with tutors in sessions that are based on the specific requirements of learning to sing and developing one’s musicianship. This includes ensemble classes that explore group and solo singing in order to develop both the skills and the confidence to sing in public.

   Throughout the module each student receives a formal individual feedback tutorial at the end of every term to discuss progress with a member of staff, and to agree individual targets for development. This tutorial draws on written reports form every class the student has taken. In addition, students receive informal feedback on solo and ensemble work throughout the module as part of LAMDA’s policy to monitor process.

13. Assessment methods
13.1 Main assessment methods
Although a student’s skills are developed through ensemble work, which includes tutor-led feedback and peer observation, the module grade is determined by assessing each individual student.

All assessment on this module is via course work, based on continuous evaluation. This results in summative feedback reports for each student at the end of each term, and an overall grade of the student’s work at the end of the module. Over the duration of the module, the student’s contribution to and performance in each series of classes or workshops results in two marks, weighted equally: one mark for process and one for performance.

- Process marks reflect students’ preparation for and approach to the work, and the extent to which they have applied professional attitudes to the acquisition of new skills or techniques.
- Performance (or attainment) marks reflect the extent to which those skills and techniques have been demonstrated

Initial assessment grading is done in accordance with the University of Kent’s assessment scheme, and its available percentage grades. The criteria applied are outlined in the LAMDA assessment form which identifies the competencies of student work according to the appropriate classifications.

First and second marking procedures follow the regulations as set out by the University of Kent. All first marking is undertaken by the relevant class tutor or workshop director. Final public performances are also second marked by a member of academic staff. All marks are compiled for consideration and moderation at the end-of-term internal examination board meeting, which is attended by the Heads of Department and the Head of the Drama School. This results in two overall process and performance marks, which are then aggregated, to produce a single final module outcome.

15. Inclusive module design

This module is part of a primarily practice-based programme that utilises continuous assessment to measure attainment of the learning outcomes.

LAMDA recognises and has embedded the expectations of current equality legislation, by ensuring that the module is as accessible as possible by design. There is a Learning Agreement system in place to support students with disabilities and for those students who may sustain an injury – physical or vocal – whilst on the course. Reasonable adjustments are made to ensure students can achieve the learning outcomes.

Inclusive practices have been considered in order to support all students in the following areas:

a) Accessible resources and curriculum
b) Learning, teaching and assessment methods

16. Campus(es) or centre(s) where module will be delivered
   LAMDA, 155 Talgarth Road, London, W14 9DA

17. Internationalisation

   LAMDA auditions for students in France, Ireland and right across North America, has active partnerships with organisations in India and Hong Kong, and regularly attracts students from over fifty different countries. We have an increasingly diverse staffing body, and consistently seek to broaden the range of material we work with beyond the standard canon. Before and after graduation, students are paired with mentors in their own region of the world, and those eligible to work in the US and/or Canada are showcased to the industry in New York and Los Angeles or Toronto, as appropriate. Although our English language entry requirements are high, we have recently introduced additional support for those students whose first language is not English.

If the module is part of a programme in a Partner College or Validated Institution, please complete sections 18 and 19. If the module is not part of a programme in a Partner College or Validated Institution these sections can be deleted.
