Programme Specification

Please note: This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she passes the programme. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in the programme handbook. The accuracy of the information contained in this specification is reviewed by the University and may be checked by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education.

16. Educational Aims of the Programme
The programme aims to:

Aims which place the study of the discipline in context:
• Promote knowledge and understanding of professional contemporary dance practice and the aesthetic, artistic and cultural values informing the ways in which dances are made, performed, viewed and shared amongst a variety of recipients and audiences
• Provide opportunities for students to develop the broad range of skills needed to meet the challenges of a diverse and multi-faceted professional dance environment
• Encourage the exploration and development of students’ distinct strengths and qualities, to realise physical and creative potential and foster an individual artistic voice
• Instil principles of safe practice and wellbeing to promote life-long career paths within the dance profession
• Provide an interface with the contemporary profession through which students can both be informed by and impact on the development of contemporary dance practice
• Encourage and consolidate a distinctive regional identity through network opportunities and other embedded experiences within the curricular, informed by visiting local artists

Aims in relation to the mission statement:
• provide an excellent quality of higher education, a high quality of conservatoire HE provision in the field of contemporary dance
• provide flexibility and a multidiscipline approach
• provide teaching informed by research and scholarship
• meet the lifelong needs of a diversity of students
• support national and regional economic success
• build on close ties within Europe and elsewhere, reflecting Kent’s position as the UK European University
• Enable students to initiate, self-direct and maintain independent approaches to their own learning and to develop their analytical, critical and interpretive skills, appropriate to undergraduate study
• To offer a range of module options that enable students to study some selected areas of creative practice, performance as research and dance pedagogy
• Widen participation in higher education within the local region by offering a wide variety of entry routes.
• Attract intellectually able students irrespective of race, background, gender, as well as physical disability, from within the United Kingdom and from overseas.

Aims in relation to the learning and teaching strategy:
• To provide teaching that is informed by current research and scholarship and which requires students to engage with aspects of dance performance, choreography and dance pedagogy which is cutting edge and reflects currency in the present industry landscape
• Produce graduates who have an informed, critical and analytical approach to understanding the contemporary dance practices and dance pedagogy.
• To provide opportunities for the development of personal, communication, research and other key skills appropriate for graduate employment.
• Foster students’ ability to be independent minded and to be able to work in an independent manner.
• Enhance students’ skills of interpersonal interaction and the development of critical reflexiveness in individual and group work
• prepare students for employment or further study
• provide high quality teaching in supportive environments with appropriately qualified and trained staff
17 Programme Outcomes
The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, qualities, skills and other attributes in the following areas.
The programme outcomes have references to the subject benchmarking statement for Dance, Drama and Performing Arts (2015)

A. Knowledge and Understanding of:
   A1: practitioners and practices
   A2: critical perspectives on relevant theories and debates in relation to performance
   A3: craft and technique
   A4: histories, forms and traditions of performance
   A5: critical awareness of research methodologies and methods used to investigate the fields of study
   A6: applications of performance in educational, community and social contexts and pedagogical perspectives as appropriate to dance / performance education
   A7: the use of technical skills in creative and critical modes of expression
   A8: the use of group processes in the creation of work including, for example, working collectively, ensemble, co-creation and hierarchical and non-hierarchical structures

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated

The undergraduate programme is built uniquely upon a ‘scaffolded’ curriculum model where common strands are explored through each stage of the course. The core strands are technique, creative practice, performance in context, research and teaching dance. Within the strands core subject skills are developed across modules in a ‘blended approach’ to learning. These provide students with an essential subject toolkit as a dance artist. These core skills involve physical and bodily awareness, compositional analysis, performance skills, appreciation, choreography, research, reflexive practice and dance pedagogy. The development of these skills through the curriculum strands allow for knowledge transfer within a variety of different contexts and support the employability of graduates from this programme.

All students follow the same programme of study in stage 1 which introduces the students to the different strands of the curriculum and creates a foundation for core skills development. In stage 2 students have the independence of choice in relation to mode of representation as a curator/producer or a teacher/facilitator, without compromising on any of the other creative or performance strands essential to either of these roles. In stage 3, students can further develop their identity as a creator, performer or teacher through their choice of a 30 credit dissertation ‘practice as research module’ or teaching dance module.

In dance technique modules student learning takes place through participation in tutor led classes. The classes focus on the training and articulation of the body and exercises are used to build the core skills of anatomical awareness, appropriate physical strength and muscular effort, range of motion, proprioception, coordination, expression and performativity. This training is necessarily repetitive building a spiral curriculum of continually refining and sophisticating practice where the content is progressively developed throughout the 3 stages of study, in order to promote the development of ‘imaginative and creative’ performers.
In relation to the Dance Technique modules there is an innovative approach to the structuring of the programme, whereby ballet and contemporary techniques are integrated into one module. This will support student understanding that all movement techniques are underpinned by a keen awareness of the workings of the individual structure and core principles of anatomical awareness resulting in safe and dynamic alignment, appropriate physical strength and muscular effort, range of motion, proprioception and coordination. Assessing a range of approaches to ballet and contemporary dance techniques within one module will reinforce the idea that each technique has equal value in preparing the body and mind of a versatile dancer.

It was also considered vital to the new programme that students develop an understanding that technique is a way of training the body in order that it might best serve artistic expression. Therefore as the programme progresses, the dance technique modules reduce in credit value, from 45 credits at level 4, to 30 credits at level 5, to 15 credits at level 6. Students continue to receive daily ballet and contemporary technique classes, as would be expected in conservatoire level training, but the classes are integrated into the Performance in Context modules from Performance in Context 2 onwards. This means that the students experience technique classes as a vital part of their performance work, and as a means to an end rather than as an end in themselves, reflective of professional practice in the dance sector.

In Creative Practice modules skills, knowledge and understanding is acquired through tutor directed practical dance activities and independent creative investigations. These activities promote the exploration and development of an expressive dance vocabulary which enables the student to create, interpret and perform contemporary dance based works showing an understanding of the genre.

Performance in Context modules recreate a range of different professional dance company experiences. This process includes directed and independent learning, group work and the development of the interpersonal skills required to successfully work with professional choreographers, composers or designers. In Research Project, Creative Practice, Performance in Context and some technique modules, students undertake a self-directed rehearsal process supported by taught delivery of dance repertoire through which they develop an original or adapted solo or group dance work.

Uniquely for this programme, Teaching Dance modules include the option to develop teaching practice through a period of placement learning within a school or community setting. Preparation for the placement involves tutor supported and independent study. During the placement students undertake their teaching practice within a professional educational environment and are supported by a placement host and the module tutor.

All of the practical modules have theoretical underpinning where learning takes place through mixed mode learning, tutor directed and independent study and one to one tutorials. Modules such as Performance in Context, Creative Practice and Research Project, combine theoretical study with practical activities and therefore learning outcomes are achieved through exposure to a wide range of teaching and learning methods as indicated above. Across the programme there is appropriate application of directed study to enable students the space to respond to set tasks as individuals or in groups in preparation for classes which follow. Whilst independent study will allow students opportunity to design, apply and manage time and resources effectively towards assessment demands.
In exceptional circumstances, where students are given ‘apprentice’ style offers with a professional company, they may continue their studies in the final two terms of their level 6 year through the Professional Practice Placement modules. The exceptional circumstances arise when companies approach students with potential employment opportunity (before completion of their studies). Professional Practice Placement 1 and Professional Practice Placement 2 modules are available for these students to have the option of studying whilst on placement. These modules blend employment with study opportunities for students in stage 3. The placement follows the NSCD code of practice for placements and is managed by an individually negotiated learner plan and assessed by NSCD tutors in the workplace context.

Northern School of Contemporary Dance employs a wide variety of assessment methods including formative, continuous and summative assessment.

Assessment evidence is collected through:
- Continuous and summative assessments in technique modules
- Assessed rehearsal processes
- Showings of solos, choreographic work and improvisation & movement research
- Lecture Demonstrations
- Written essays and dissertations
- Written project reports and evaluations / reflections
- Individual and small group verbal presentations
- Observation of placement activity

Students receive ongoing feedback in practical classes and through the tutorial system in which professional and academic development are considered and evaluated.

Achievement is measured against module assessment criteria and in accordance with programme and module learning outcomes. Students must meet the specific attendance requirements for the Programme.

Skills and Other Attributes
B. Subject specific knowledge, skills and understanding: making, creating and performing
B1: engaging in performance and production, based on acquisition and understanding of appropriate performance and production vocabularies, skills, structures, working methods and research paradigms
B2: developing a repertoire of interpretative skills, practices and making techniques (physical/aural/spatial) and applying them effectively to engage with an audience/performance
B3: contributing to the production of performance, for example through direction, choreography, dramaturgy, stage management, scenography, sound and lighting production, media, promotion, administration and funding
B4: realising the performance possibilities of a script, score and other textual and documentary sources and/or creating new work using the skills and crafts of performance making/writing

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated
C. Subject-specific knowledge, skills and understanding: critical response / analysis
   C1: describing, theorising, interpreting and evaluating performance texts and events from a range of critical and technical perspectives and using appropriate subject specific vocabularies
   C2: developing skills of observation and visual, aural and spatial awareness
   C3: identifying and discriminating between primary and secondary sources
   C4: investigating performance environments to determine how place, site and space and shape the events they accommodate

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated
As for Section A

D. Subject-specific knowledge, skills and understanding: application / participation
   D1: analysing the role which dance, drama and performance, in all its forms, may play in contributing to cultural debate and active citizenship
   D2: planning, facilitating, delivering and evaluating projects that apply dance, participatory and performance subject expertise in social, educational, community and other socially engaged settings

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated
As for Section A

E. Graduate skills: Self-management
   E1: work independently, set goals and manage their own workloads
   E2: work effectively under pressure and to deadlines
   E3: understand how to manage risk, health, safety and employ ethical working practices to ensure safe working contexts
   E4: work in planned and improvisatory ways, to anticipate and accommodate change, ambiguity, creative risk taking, uncertainty and unfamiliarity
   E5: identify personal strengths and needs, and reflect on personal development and opportunities for life-long learning

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated
As for Section A

F. Graduate skills: Critical engagement
   F1: operate and think reflexively, creatively, critically and technically to develop ideas and construct arguments
   F2: research and examine information, materials and experiences, formulate independent judgements, and articulate reasoned arguments through reflection

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated
UNIVERSITY OF KENT

As for Section A

G. Graduate skills: Group / team working & social skills
   G1: effectively lead, facilitate, participate and problem solve within team working contexts
   G2: understand group dynamics to operate collaboratively within collective, creative and professional contexts to generate and pursue shared goals
   G3: recognise situational and interpersonal factors and how these can be effectively accommodated to facilitate productive working relationships

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated
   As for Section A

H. Graduate skills: Communication & presentation
   H1: articulate ideas and communicate information comprehensibly in visual, physical, oral and textual forms
   H2: produce written work with appropriate scholarly and professional registers/conventions
   H3: critically use information retrieval skills, involving the ability to gather, sift, manipulate, synthesise, evaluate and organise material
   H4: appropriately select, employ and adapt digital media and information technologies

Teaching/learning and assessment methods and strategies used to enable outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated
   As for Section A

For more information on the skills developed by individual modules and on the specific learning outcomes associated with any Certificate, Diploma or BA/BSc non-honours awards relating to this programme of study, see the module mapping table, located at the end of this specification.
The programme is studied over three years full-time.

The programme is divided into three stages, each stage comprising modules to a total of 120 credits. Students must successfully complete each module in order to be awarded the specified number of credits for that module. One credit corresponds to approximately ten hours of ‘learning time’ (including all classes and all private study and research). Thus obtaining 120 credits in an academic year requires 1,200 hours of overall learning time. For further information on modules and credits refer to the Credit Framework at http://www.kent.ac.uk/teaching/qa/creditframework/creditinfo.html

Where a student fails a module(s) due to illness or other mitigating circumstances, such failure may be condoned, subject to the requirements of the Credit Framework and provided that the student has achieved the programme learning outcomes. For further information refer to the Credit Framework at http://www.kent.ac.uk/teaching/qa/credit-framework/creditinfo.html

Where a student fails a module(s), but has marks for such modules within 10 percentage points of the pass mark, the Board of Examiners may nevertheless award the credits for the module(s), subject to the requirements of the Credit Framework and provided that the student has achieved the programme learning outcomes. For further information refer to the Credit Framework at http://www.kent.ac.uk/teaching/qa/credit-framework/creditinfo.html

Each module is designed to be at a specific level. For the descriptors of each of these levels, refer to Annex 2 of the Credit Framework at http://www.kent.ac.uk/teaching/qa/credit-framework/creditinfoannex2.html. To be eligible for the award of an honours degree students must obtain 360 credits, at least 210 of which must be Level 5 or above, and at least 90 of which must be level 6 or above. Students successfully completing Stage 1 of the programme and meeting credit framework requirements who do not successfully complete Stage 2 will be eligible for the award of the Cert HE Dance (Contemporary). Students successfully completing Stage 1 and Stage 2 of the programme and meeting Credit Framework requirements who do not successfully complete Stage 3 will be eligible for the award of the Dip HE in Dance (Contemporary). Students successfully completing Stage 2 of the programme and achieving 300 credits overall including at least 60 credits at Level 6 and meeting Credit Framework requirements will be eligible for the award of a BA Dance (Contemporary) non-honours degree.

All modules are compulsory at Level 4 and are core to the programme and must be taken by all students studying the programme. At levels 5 there are two module option parings (either creative practice 2 or teaching dance 2) and at level 6 (research project 3 or teaching dance 3) where a student may choose focus their identity further as a ‘creator/performer’ or a ‘teacher/facilitator’. For Stage 1 credits, which do not count towards degree classification, each module mark is recorded as Pass or Fail only. For further information refer to the Credit Framework at http://www.kent.ac.uk/teaching/qa/credit-framework/creditinfo.html.

All 120 credits in year 3 must be made up from the Level 6 Modules above

A student can only take one of Research Project 3 and Teaching Dance 3

A student can take Placement 1 and/or Placement 2 upon agreement by the NSCD Director of Studies and Placement Host
19 Work-Based Learning

Disability Statement: Where disabled students are due to undertake a work placement as part of this programme of study, a representative of the University will meet with the work placement provider in advance to ensure the provision of anticipatory and reasonable adjustments in line with legal requirements.

Where relevant to the programme of study, provide details of any work-based learning element, inclusive of employer details, delivery, assessment and support for students:

Following on from an introduction to teaching in level 4 (an internal non placement experience), a student may choose to undertake a teaching placement in a range of community and/or education settings at stage 2 and stage 3 (Teaching dance 2 & Teaching dance 3, and Professional Practice Placement 1 and Professional Practice Placement 2 options). The school helps to support the allocation of teaching placements and offers support for the host (as mentor) and the student whilst on placement. Specific students’ needs are dealt with on an individual basis to ensure all reasonable adjustments are made.

Northern school of Contemporary Dance has a code of practice for placements policy which enables students to design a specific learner agreement with a professional host organisation and mentor. This Individually Negotiated Learner Plan (INLP) identifies clearly processes of induction, insurance, risk assessment and how module learning outcomes are achieved, assessed and supported through the placement activities.

Students are assessed by an NSCD tutor in the workplace, where feedback is supported and clarified by information provided by the professional host mentor.

Northern School of Contemporary Dance has embedded the expectations of current disability equality legislation, and supports students with a declared disability or special educational need in its teaching. Within this module we will make reasonable adjustments wherever necessary, including additional or substitute materials, teaching modes or assessment methods for students who have declared and discussed their learning support needs. Arrangements for students with declared disabilities will be made on an individual basis, in consultation with Northern School of Contemporary Dance’s student support service, and specialist support will be provided where needed.

Regular tutorials support the students learning during the process of the placement.

20 Support for Students and their Learning

- School and University induction programme
- Programme/module handbooks
- Library services, see https://nscdlibrary.wordpress.com/

From September 2017, all students can book appointments online through the virtual learning environment (Moodle – student administration) for the following services:

- Student well-being appointments http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
- English Language support http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Counselling Services http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Injury support http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Learner support http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Library services support http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• IT support http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Student finance support http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Academic tutorials http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Pastoral tutorials with year liaison tutor http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Admissions (for progression applications) http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51
• Exit interviews http://moodle.nscd.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=51

Academic Support
The School provides students with a comprehensive range of support mechanisms to help them with their studies and their professional development. All students have access to academic support and guidance from tutors who maintain an overview of students’ progress and development. Module tutors provide support and guidance on course or progress issues as well as on more practical and pastoral matters. Students have access to module learning materials through the use of the Virtual Learning Environment (Moodle).

Virtual Learning Environment (VLE)
Moodle is the school’s chosen Virtual Learning Environment to be made available from September 2017. It is used to support teaching and learning online. Moodle is available to students at any time on any internet-connected computer, laptop or device with a web browser both on and off the school site.

Moodle is a media rich environment where the student can, as appropriate to their programme:
• choose to view or download resources or revisit classroom activities online
• watch short video clips from class, or dance works, listen to audio or podcasts
• see scheduled events on the calendar helping them to organise their time and remind them of important assignment dates / sessions and times
• easily and quickly submit their assignments online without having to come into school and view grades and feedback at the same time (summative assignments can be monitored for plagiarism)
• track and monitor their own progress
• communicate with their peers through the discussion forums and share ideas and experiences
• send messages directly to their tutor and other learners on your programme
• gain access to a wide range of electronic resources and journals to help with your research and assignments
• access e-books online

The Student Review Board (SRB)
The Student Review Board monitors the progress, conduct and attendance of all students. If any of these areas are causing concern, the SRB alerts the student and identifies the appropriate School support mechanisms to help her/him to address them. The SRB can also instigate disciplinary action in accordance with the School’s Fitness to train policy and Disciplinary Procedures.

Student Support Mechanisms
Through Academic registry and student services, NSCD employs a range of qualified tutors to offer advice and assistance to students with a disability, medical condition, mental health difficulty or specific learning difficulty and who may require support to gain equal access to the curriculum.

Advice and Assistance Available:

- assessment of educational support needs
- training in the use of supportive technology with advice on how to access equipment
- advice on study-related support
- advice on funding and financial management
- arranging dyslexia tests and tuition
- information visits for disabled students including access needs
- negotiating alternative arrangements for assessment and making reasonable adjustments
- information on national health and well-being organisations and services

Learner Support for Students with a Disability or a Specific Learning Difficulty Students are asked to identify support needs at point of application. However, students are encouraged to disclose their disability at any point in their studies.

The School’s policy is to support all students to become independent learners who take responsibility for their own learning. The Learner Support Tutor will work with students with a disability or specific learning difficulty towards achieving this. If a student is entitled to extra time for assignments or to undertake alternative assessments this will be identified in an Individual Learning Support Plan (drawn up by the Learner Support Tutor in consultation with tutors and in negotiation with the student). Any extensions to deadlines or alternative assessment arrangements are agreed by the Learner Support Tutor in consultation with the relevant module tutor and/or subject coordinator. Both group and individual tutorials, and/or coaching sessions, are arranged to help students with disabilities/learning difficulties with their studies.

Support for Students whose First Language is not English
All students must meet the stated IELTS level for English Language. Those who require further, course specific, English Language support will be provided with support by the School.

Health & Wellbeing
Northern School of Contemporary Dance has a strong tradition of providing student care and support services and commits considerable resources to this purpose. Many students who are embarking on a course will be living away from home or abroad for the first time and may face a number of challenges during their training. We aim to provide the necessary services to help all students overcome these and ensure that the highest level of individual care is offered.

Northern School of Contemporary Dance is committing to promote mental health and wellbeing. The Health & Wellbeing Coordinator oversees our wellbeing offer which provides students with the opportunity to talk about personal issues in complete confidence and in a private setting.

The School has an injury rehabilitation provision, overseen by the Injury Support Coordinator to help students better understand and recover from injury and/or, prevent them from developing chronic injuries. Along with in-house Injury Support Sessions, Integrative Bodywork classes and gym area, the School works in collaboration with local osteopathy, physiotherapy, acupuncture and massage providers. All students are provided with guidance on nutrition and fitness. We also offer help and support in finding a local GP and other NHS services.

Careers Advice and Guidance
Embedded into the programme is a careers programme to support the transition of a student into the profession.

21 Entry Profile
The minimum age to study a degree programme at the university is normally at least 17 years old by 20 September in the year the programme begins. There is no upper age limit.

21.1 Entry Route
For current information, please refer to the University prospectus

In order to qualify for admission to the programme of study students must satisfy both a General Requirement and a Course Requirement.

General Requirement
Normally candidates should have attained:
- Two A Level passes and five GCSE passes at grade C / grade 4 or above (including English language) or
- Other qualifications and/or experience equivalent to the above which suggests that the candidate has an equal opportunity of succeeding on the course.

Other qualifications may include one of the following:
- Pass in a BTEC National Diploma
- 4 Scottish Higher passes
- Pass in a GNVQ, or a combination of Academic and/or Vocational Qualifications equivalent to 2 Advanced Level GCE passes
- Successfully complete the School’s matriculation procedure. The School’s Matriculation procedures require candidates to submit two pieces of work normally comprising of written assignments encompassing analytical and reflective writing.

Candidates for whom English is not their native language will need to demonstrate a proficiency in written and spoken English relevant to the demands of the programme of study. This would normally be at least one of the following:
- International English Language Testing System (IELTS) at 6.5 pass level
- TOEFL IB 87
- Computer based TOEFL of 237 (no less than 4.0 in essay rating)

Course Requirement
In order to qualify for admission to the programme of study candidates are required to pass an audition process.

Audition Procedure
Stage 1: All Candidates
- creative/Improvisation/Ice-breaker session
- dance technique classes; Contemporary and Ballet
- presentation of a pre-prepared solo
Stage 2: Shortlisted Candidates only
- creative task
- group discussion/interview
- written task, in relation to the audition, to be submitted within 1 week from the audition day

During the audition process candidates are scored on the following areas:
- physical ability, experience and/or potential
- performance ability
- creativity
- critical thinking
- reflective engagement
- suitability for the programme of study

There is procedure in place for candidates to ask for feedback in relation to the audition process and a complaints policy surrounding admissions. This information is available on the admissions page of the School's website.

21.2 What does this programme have to offer?
The BA (Hons) Dance (Contemporary) degree is a course of study specifically designed for the education and training of professional contemporary dance artists, performers, choreographers and teachers. As a programme of study, it encompasses the physical, technical, expressive, creative and artistic nature of contemporary dance performance practice informed by contextual and theoretical aspects of the discipline.

One of the overarching aims for the programme is to give the student a scaffolded curriculum where re-occurring themes are transparent, whilst also creating a learning environment where students can synthesise their technical, performative, creative and contextual skills such that the multifaceted nature of a successful dance artist is supported. The intention of the programme is to promote specialisms as performer, creator, and teacher in combination with a broad range of key subject specific and transferable skills to best equip graduates for the contemporary job market and further study.

The range of technical training undertaken during the programme is designed to train the body, whilst developing artistic intelligence and an understanding of movement that enables the dancer to respond to the varied and changing demands of contemporary choreography. Classes offer a holistic approach to dance training where strength, stamina and flexibility are developed, underpinned by a practical and theoretical study of how the body moves and of how to work safely in a variety of professional contexts. Students are encouraged to explore the physical and expressive potential of the body through a range of contemporary dance techniques and classical ballet.

The module structure and blended learning ensure that technical training is never seen in isolation. In particular the Dance Technique modules integrate class work with body/mind understanding, reflective practice and professional development. Similarly the Performance in Context modules mix technical, creative, historical and contextual understanding to help enable the students to see how the different elements of contemporary dance practice integrate together in performance outcomes relevant to current industry practice.
Understanding of the key aspects of choreography, improvisation and movement research, along with supporting studies in theatre production, music, conceptual, visual and performance art, are directly addressed in the Creative Practice and Research Project modules. The emphasis in the Creative Practice modules is in providing the students with the key tools, skills and understanding to create artistic work effectively, while the Research Project modules focus on allowing the student to develop individual areas of research interest, alongside relevant skills to support this both practically and theoretically. Through these modules students will embrace a range of industry relevant modes of working, such as dance film, site-specific practice, social responsibility in dance, collective working, as well as a thorough grounding in traditional theatre practice. Throughout these modules students will gradually increase in autonomy and self-sufficiency as they take greater levels of responsibility for the sharing and performance of their works.

The final strand of delivery is aimed at teaching through the Teaching Dance modules. This element is compulsory at level 4, and then an optional strand at levels 5 & 6. The aim of this is threefold. Firstly to prepare students to have the relevant skills for increasingly common portfolio careers. Secondly, to allow those students who want to focus on pedagogy to transition into the teaching profession or further study in this area underpinned by strong technical and creative training. Finally to help enable students to understand their own practice and better engage with their own learning as they progress through the course.

Both within and outside the core curriculum, it is intended that the programme be supported in all areas by significant enhancement by the profession. This will include a wide range of visiting choreographers, guest teachers and industry professionals to augment the in-house training and delivery as well as draw direct links and contacts to the profession.

21.3 Personal Profile

On entry the student will be able to demonstrate:

- physical ability, experience and/or potential
- performance ability
- creativity
- critical thinking
- reflective engagement

All of which have been assessed during the admissions process of being of a standard suitable for entry at undergraduate degree level.

24 Inclusive Programme Design

The Collaborative Partner recognises and has embedded the expectations of current equality legislation, by ensuring that the programme is as accessible as possible by design. Additional alternative arrangements for students with Inclusive Learning Plans (ILPs)/declared disabilities will be made on an individual basis, in consultation with the relevant policies and support services.
Module mapping table to be amended as appropriate to the programme specification. Where the programme includes optional modules, only the compulsory modules should be included in the table. The programme learning outcomes will normally all be addressed by the compulsory modules.
