13 A synopsis of the curriculum
In this module the work focuses on developing physical strength, flexibility and coordination and in developing an analytical understanding of the technique. Emphasis is placed upon enhancing imaginative involvement in relation to anatomical awareness and in fostering an understanding of the focus and commitment necessary to progress to Level Two. Emphasis will also be placed on students developing self awareness and understanding of their individual potential. Class content and format will vary according to the requirements of the technique studied and the particular needs of individual and groups of students.

15 Learning and Teaching Methods, including the nature and number of contact hours and the total study hours which will be expected of students, and how these relate to achievement of the intended learning outcomes.

This module is delivered as taught, studio-based class sessions usually with live accompaniment. Students are expected to attend all timetabled sessions throughout the year and should expect to practice taught material outside of class hours. They should also take responsibility for their own warm-up and cool-down before and after class and spend time on private study by using the library, attending live performances, and referring to their own notes.

Students receive continuous feedback through correction and information delivered to individuals and to the group. Technical principles may be reinforced through discussion, evaluation and working with partners. Students also receive individual feedback at the end of each assessment period.

Tutorial support is available through the College’s personal tutorial system, as required. Additional support through practical tutorials and coaching is also available throughout the module.

17 Implications for learning resources, including staff, library, IT and space

NSCD employs teaching staff who have attained the highest professional level in their field. This module is also supported by the College’s state of the art facilities which include:

• 7 large dance studios with fully sprung dance floors, pianos and drums for live accompaniment and the latest video and audio technology

• students can access specialist advice and equipment to promote their health and fitness and support their technical development

• a learner resource centre containing materials students need to support their studies including books, journals, videos, DVDs, cassettes, CDs, electronic resources and internet access through 15 computers

18 The Collaborative Partner recognises and has embedded the expectations of current disability equality legislation, and supports students with a declared disability or special educational need in its teaching. Within this module we will make reasonable adjustments wherever necessary, including additional or substitute materials, teaching modes or assessment methods for students who have declared and discussed their learning support needs. Arrangements for students with declared disabilities will be made on an individual basis, in consultation with the Collaborative Partner’s disability/dyslexia support service, and specialist support will be provided where needed.
