13. A synopsis of the curriculum
This module allows students to build upon progress made during their foundational training in Semester One. Barre work will include exercises performed on demi-pointe, port de bras and centre practice will demand more complex co-ordinations, longer balances and travelling pirouette combinations, and jumps will include simple batterie and grand allegro exercises to increase speed strength and stamina.

Students further develop their confidence in weekly classical pas de deux classes. In classical solos students begin to develop performance skills: the use of eye-line/focus, and a grasp of appropriate style with a feeling for line and epaulement.

14. Indicative Reading List:

15. Learning and Teaching Methods, including the nature and number of contact hours and the total study hours which will be expected of students, and how these relate to achievement of the intended module learning outcomes

Each student receives five one and a half hour ballet classes a week. Men and women are taught in separate classes. There is a pointe class of one hour for the women and a coaching class of one hour for the men each week. In addition, there is one pas de deux class each week of one and a half hours and a separate solos class for the men and women of one hour each per week. Students are expected to practice independently, and to evaluate their own performances through watching filmed classes/solos. The below table indicates hours of study for each teaching & learning method and the specific and generic outcomes addressed by each:

16. Assessment methods and how these relate to testing achievement of the intended module learning outcomes:

Marks, written comments, and a fifteen minute tutorial focusing on the student’s progress and the marks awarded are given at the end of each semester. Written comments are given in relation to the five criteria for dance technique: movement quality, musicality, stage presence, commitment/empathy/cooperation, and dance technical ability. Page two of the feedback form gives a descriptor for each of the criteria plus the overall mark.
