Early-Positive Approaches to Support

The development of a new family carer support programme.

Nick Gore and Serena Brady

Background

- Challenging behaviour has a significant negative impact on people with learning disabilities and those who support them.
- Challenging behaviour often starts in childhood and without intervention endures into adulthood.
- Early support in childhood may prevent challenging behaviour from developing and improve outcomes for people with LD, and their families.

Why a family carer programme?

- Brief and low cost.
- Sustainable and empowering for family carers.
- Well evidence-based.
- Family carers are best placed to offer support and often the most motivated to do this.

Why a new programme?

- There are many programmes for family carers of typically developing children however these rarely meet the additional needs of family carers of children with LD.
- Programmes for family carers of children with LD do exist – Confident Parenting, Stepping Stones Triple P, Incredible Years etc.
- These existing programmes are well evidenced however they are designed to provide support after challenging behaviour has developed.

Developing the group

1. Deciding on the content areas
   - Based on principles of positive behaviour support.
   - Risk factors for development of challenging behaviour.
   - Known areas of difficulty for children with LD.
   - Advice from other professionals.

2. Initial working party meeting
   - Attended by a range of professionals who were experts in at least one of the topic areas, and a family carer.
   - Discussed what should go in each session, extra resources, how to run the group.

3. Developing the session content
   - Using feedback from the focus group and the literature.

4. Family carer focus group
   - Invited 7 family carers to offer advice on the format and content looking back on what would have been useful for them.

5. Specific feedback on sessions and resources from working party and focus group.

The E-PAtS programme

- For family carers with a child aged 0-5 where developmental delay/LD has been suggested.
- 8 x 2.5 hour sessions, facilitated by a professional and family carer.

   1. Working together - Introduction, accessing services
   2. Looking after yourself (1) - importance of looking after yourself
   3. Looking after yourself (2) - a mindfulness approach
   4. Sleep - How to help your child sleep well.
   5. Communication - supporting your child to communicate
   6. Fostering life skills through active development - developing skills and independence
   7. Responding to challenges - responding to challenging behaviour
   8. The next steps - tying it all together

The workbook

- The passport – specific information about the child in relation to session content to be shared with others.
- Top tips from other family carers.
- Service directory & additional resources.

The proposed pilot

- Participants - two groups of family carers (n=24) of children aged 0-5 – delayed start for one group to serve as a control.
- Recruitment - local family carer groups/other contacts.
- Measures -
  - Quantitative - parental confidence, challenging behaviour, sleep habits, challenging behaviour knowledge, adaptive behaviour.
  - Qualitative - interviews with family carers.

The next steps

- Larger trials of the programme around the UK.
- PhD - tailoring the programme to children with specific syndromes.
