This course looks at a selection of texts from the 1960s and locates them in the literary, political and sociological climate of the period.

This course looks at a selection of texts from the 1960s, considering them not only as important works of literature, but also as part of an historical, sociological and political continuum. Through a sample of texts across the three genres of poetry, drama and prose and from a selection of countries, we will attempt to identify the key political and literary concerns of the period. Authors studied will include: R K Narayan, (The Man-Eater of Malgudi), Sylvia Plath, (The Bell Jar), Arthur Miller, (Incident at Vichy), Jean Rhys, (Wide Sargasso Sea), Roger McGough, Brien Patten, Adrian Henri, (The Mersey Sound) and John Fowles, (The French Lieutenant's Woman).

Required reading

Week 1: R K Narayan, The Man-Eater of Malgudi (1961)

Week 2: Sylvia Plath, The Bell Jar (1963)

Week 3: Arthur Miller, Incident at Vichy (1964)

Week 4: Jean Rhys, Wide Sargasso Sea (1966)

Week 5: Roger McGough, Brien Patten, Adrian Henri, The Mersey Sound (1967)

Week 6: John Fowles, The French Lieutenant's Woman (1969)

Additional information

- This course is suitable for beginners, intermediates or advanced students.
- This course allows you to spend time exploring a subject for interest, among like-minded people, without formal assessment.

Intended learning outcomes

By the end of the course students will be able to:

- identify the characteristics of the literature of the 1960s and view the selected texts as a continuum as well as products of their specific time.
- identify and explain some of the themes and anxieties expressed through literature in the 1960s.
- interpret literary texts in a critical way, illustrating arguments with carefully chosen examples.
- demonstrate knowledge through the construction of critical arguments and present and defend those arguments confidently amongst peers.

About the tutor

Sarah Anthony studied for her Masters degree with the Open University specialising in postcolonial nineteenth century literature. For the last 12 years she has taught undergraduate students and adult learners in courses ranging from Shakespeare to the postmodern. She currently teaches for the University of Kent and the WEA.

Short Course Programme General information, terms & conditions

How to book a place

These courses are usually very popular so you are advised to apply as soon as possible. Places cannot be held without payment of the course fee.

- Online Booking is preferred. Please visit www.kent.ac.uk/tonbridge
- By post to us at the address below, using the application form in the programme booklet. Please note that you will not receive an acknowledgment of your paper application; your payment will usually be processed when the course becomes financially viable, otherwise we will notify you of cancellation approximately seven days prior to the course. A paper application affirms acceptance of our terms & conditions.

Course cancellation

As these short courses are self-financing, each course can only proceed if there are sufficient enrolments. Therefore, if a course is cancelled due to insufficient enrolments we aim to notify applicants approximately one week before the course start date; if there is no suitable alternative course, we will refund the appropriate course fee in full. The University of Kent reserves the right to cancel a course for this or any other reason in which case the relevant course fee will be refunded in full. We advise that you do not buy books or other course materials until that particular course has been confirmed as taking place: please contact us if you are unsure.

If you find it necessary to cancel your place on a course, please let us know as soon as possible. Refund requests, including the reason, should be made by email or in writing to us at the address below. We reserve the right to retain all or part of the course fee if you request a refund after 14 days of your online booking being made or paper application being received. Discretionary, partial refunds may be made, after the deduction of an administrative handling fee as follows:

- a course fee of up to and including £42 will incur an administrative handling fee of £10.00
- a course fee of £43 and over will incur an administrative handling fee of £12.50.

The University reserves the right to:

- a) exclude any student if the student's presence is making it difficult for the class to function properly
- b) cancel or amend the length of any course if the circumstances so warrant.

Neither the University of Kent, nor its staff, can be held responsible for any damage, loss or injury, however sustained, suffered by participants attending courses. Insurance is the student's responsibility.
