LITERATURE

The Poetry of T S Eliot
Sarah Anthony MA

Study Day 12 October
Saturday 10.00 – 16.00
Course code: 19TON411 Course fee: £42

Acknowledging T S Eliot’s debt to 14th century poet Dante Alighieri, close readings and analysis of Eliot’s key poems will be organised around the structure of the Divine Comedy: Inferno, looking at Eliot’s early work; then Purgatorio looking at The Waste Land, and ending with Paradiso and Four Quartets.

This Study Day is suitable for all students, whether or not they attended the same tutor’s course ‘Two Writers of Modernism: T S Eliot and Virginia Woolf’ in Spring 2019.

Required reading

Additional information
This course allows you to spend time exploring a subject for interest, among like-minded people, without formal assessment.

Intended learning outcomes
- Engagement in a close analysis of key texts by T S Eliot.
- Examination of the selected texts in the light of their socio-historical context and literary experimentation.
- Interpretation of the literary texts in a critical way, illustrating arguments with carefully chosen examples.
- Demonstration of knowledge through the construction of critical arguments and present and defend those arguments.

About the tutor
Sarah Anthony studied for her Masters degree with the Open University specialising in postcolonial nineteenth century literature. For the last 12 years she has taught undergraduate students and adult learners in courses ranging from Shakespeare to the postmodern. She currently teaches for the University of Kent and the WEA.
Short Course Programme

General information, terms & conditions

How to book a place
These courses are usually very popular so you are advised to apply as soon as possible. Places cannot be held without payment of the course fee.

- Online Booking is preferred. Please visit www.kent.ac.uk/tonbridge
- By post to us at the address below, using the application form in the programme booklet. Please note that you will not receive an acknowledgment of your paper application; your payment will usually be processed when the course becomes financially viable, otherwise we will notify you of cancellation approximately seven days prior to the course. A paper application affirms acceptance of our terms & conditions.

Course cancellation
As these short courses are self-financing, each course can only proceed if there are sufficient enrolments. Therefore, if a course is cancelled due to insufficient enrolments we aim to notify applicants approximately one week before the course start date; if there is no suitable alternative course, we will refund the appropriate course fee in full. The University of Kent reserves the right to cancel a course for this or any other reason in which case the relevant course fee will be refunded in full. We advise that you do not buy books or other course materials until that particular course has been confirmed as taking place: please contact us if you are unsure.

If you find it necessary to cancel your place on a course, please let us know as soon as possible. Refund requests, including the reason, should be made by email or in writing to us at the address below. We reserve the right to retain all or part of the course fee if you request a refund after 14 days of your online booking being made or paper application being received. Discretionary, partial refunds may be made, after the deduction of an administrative handling fee as follows:

- a course fee of up to and including £42 will incur an administrative handling fee of £10.00
- a course fee of £43 and over will incur an administrative handling fee of £12.50.

The University reserves the right to:
- exclude any student if the student’s presence is making it difficult for the class to function properly
- cancel or amend the length of any course if the circumstances so warrant.

Neither the University of Kent, nor its staff, can be held responsible for any damage, loss or injury, however sustained, suffered by participants attending courses. Insurance is the student’s responsibility.
